Details to be announced.

Being Bereans

One of our goals here at Aletheia is that we live out our Faith not just on Sundays, but throughout the rest of the week as well. Therefore, we would like to encourage everyone to reflect on today's sermon over the next few days. Below are some questions that could help us all go deeper with God during our quiet time.

Please feel free to listen to the sermon again to allow God to speak to you a second time. Then you can pray to Him over the questions below.

All scripture is given by inspiration of God, and is profitable for doctrine, for reproof, for correction, for instruction in righteousness: That the man of God may be perfect, thoroughly furnished unto all good works. (2 Timothy 3:16-17)

- Do I love reading the Bible by myself? Or does it feel more like a duty to me? What does my answer say about my heart?
- If I am completely honest to myself: Is the Bible the final and absolute authority in every aspect of my life? Or are there areas where I doubt the Bible?
- What lies of this world do I believe that contradict the Word of God?
- What is the main way in which I learn what God says in the Bible? Can I trust this source? Or do I need to look for other sources to make sure I'm not being led astray?
- Do I verify what preachers say about God? Or do I believe whatever they say, without reading the Bible myself?
- Am I in regular fellowship with other Christians, to discuss questions about the Bible, to gain a deeper understanding?
- Do I read books to get a deeper understanding of the Bible?
- What does God want me to do to get a deeper understanding of His Truth?
